Bill Pitcher being helped by Nurse Patricia Wood. The fraternity had donated 42 pints of blood by Friday.

Fraternity Gives Blood In Mass Contribution

Alpha Tau Omega had a bloody time last week. Each day a few members of the fraternity donated blood to the Red Cross. Some 42 pints were given by Friday. Although reports have come in from all parts of the nation about college organizations getting together and giving blood to the Red Cross, this marks the first time for a San Jose State college group.

By Friday, 36 of the ATOS had visited the blood center and other members will continue donating this week.

The idea that the fraternity could help alleviate the critical plasma shortage in Korea by a mass blood donation was discussed at a fraternity meeting two weeks ago, ATO Bob Pugh reports. After the organization had decided to go through with the project, members under 21 years of age obtained releases from their parents. The ATOS began reporting to the center Nov. 6.

ATO Don Sweeney expressed his feelings toward the whole project by saying, "I can't think of a better way to lose my blood."

Taylor Chambers echoed Sweeney's statement. He said: "I hope that the fraternity's action will help to 'give life' to our boys fighting in Korea." Both of the men said they enjoyed the coffee and doughnuts the Red Cross provides for donors.

Chest Fund Nears This Year's Mark

Figures released yesterday by the Graduate Manager's office show that the Campus Chest drive is climbing slowly toward its $7890 goal. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a total of $5597.14 had been contributed by students, campus organizations, the faculty and college employees.

Only $697.64 of the total was given by students and organizations, an average of approximately 10 cents per student.

The drive was originally scheduled to end Nov. 9, but has been extended until Nov. 16 in an attempt to meet the quota.

Money contributed to the drive will be divided among the Community Chest, the March of Dimes, the World Student Service Fund and the Cancer Fund, according to Shirley Crandall, chairman of the committee.

The Weather

When I got home from a week-end trek to the desert region of the San Joaquin valley I found a large, damp bulge in the ceiling of the kitchen.

"What's this?" I asked suspiciously. "Solid-gold rain, I presume."

Then, letting out a wild and happy yodel, I jumped on my palomino pony and galloped to school, skidded to a stop in front of the Spartan Daily office and grabbed the teletype report.

"Fair today, slightly warmer afternoons."

Ah, ha! And if this be true, why is there a large, damp bulge on my kitchen ceiling? I happen to have an acquaintance downtown and he's coming in to appraise this teletype machine in the morning.

UN Troops Inflict 12,235 Casualties on Reds; Boost Warren for Republican Nomination

Tokyo. — Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commanding the United States Eighth Army in Korea, said yesterday that United Nations troops inflicted 12,235 casualties on the Communists in the week ended Nov. 9.

The enemy losses included 8415 killed, 3458 wounded and 362 captured, Van Fleet said.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, United States Air Force Chief of Staff, said in a statement here that the Communists had thrown their entire jet air strength in Manchuria into the growing air war over northwest Korea.

Boost Warren Nomination

Sacramento. — Forty-eight prominent California Republicans have asked to be included as signers of the request that Gov. Earl Warren seek the presidential nomination, Warren's office said yesterday.

Crosstown Tilt Is 'Big One' for Both Elevens

Something has to give Saturday night in Spartan stadium in the "big one" between the Golden Raiders and their Bronco antagonists from the University of Santa Clara.

This fifth game of the crosstown series pits two teams which took a detour from Victory Road and have scampered along Loser's Lane most of the season. The young Spartan has quite a few dents in his shield with six losses and but a single victory, El Bronco, once an untamable beast, is well "broken" with five defeats and two victories.

Word from Broncoville and Coach Dick Gallagher is that four Broncos are nursing injuries as game-time approaches. Three-fourths of the Santa Clara backfield are ailing. Fullback Joe McCargar is definitely out. Halfbacks Jack Kaplan and Del Rasmussen have minor hurts which should limit their effectiveness. Quarterback Johnny Pasco is recovering from a badly bruised hand but he'll be ready to toss to his two fine ends, Dick Wiborn and Gern Nagler.

Quarterback Lynn Aplanalp, the junior who connects on better than 60 per cent of his passes, should help to make it quite an air show. Aplanalp has 38 completions in 60 attempts for 469 yards.

Tackle George Porter and injured Fullback Bob Sykes will be co-captains against the Broncos. Skipper Bob Bronzan announced yesterday. The Spartans will be at full strength except at fullback where Dick Stults, 194 pound junior, will take over for the invalids, Sykes and Frank Morris.

Bronzan stressed defense yesterday with special emphasis on placement kicker protection and punting protection. He used two defensive units and three offensive groups in another Red team versus White team scrimmage.

Public Relations Group to Meet

Bay Area members of the American College Public Relations association will meet today at the University of California Extension offices in San Francisco, Lowell C. Pratt, college director of public relations, announced yesterday.

Mr. Pratt said that the attending members will make plans to attend the ACPR 12th district meeting, to be held at Stanford.

Stanford university, University of California, Mills college, University of San Francisco and San Jose State college will have representatives at today's meeting, he added.

Twenty-two Vie For Title; SCU To Conduct Rally

The 1951 Homecoming queen will be chosen from 22 candidates at the Santa Clara university exchange rally in the Morris Dailey auditorium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, according to Ed Case, queen chairman.

The candidates will appear on the stage twice, first in campus clothes before the rally is presented, and then in formals, after the last shout for football has subsided.

Candidates for Homecoming queen are: Mary Ann Weisbrod, Bea Alksne, Bonnie Engblom, Barbara Becking, Dolores Bear-den, Joyce Buswell, Rae Roberts.

SJS-SC Tickets

Tickets may be obtained now in the Graduate Manager's office for the SC-SJS football game Saturday evening, according to Mrs. Lee Stuck.

Students with ASB cards and faculty members with honorary cards may purchase tickets for $1, she said. Non-card holders may purchase ducats for $3.

Eleanor Stone, Jan Scholz, Carol Hansen, Rosalie Anzaloni, Ann Droubay, Laura Johnson, Carol Warner, Diane Altimus, Barbara Kelley, Joanne Sullivan, Kathleen Scott, Nancy Lamb, Lorelei Holbrook, Nancy Weir and Elaine Schulz.

Three musical groups, cheer leaders, and guest speakers from Santa Clara, will share the spotlight with their friendly female rivals from across town, according to Ed Vranizan, Santa Clara Rally committee chairman.

An admission price of 10 cents will be charged, according to Tom Mullan, SJS Rally committee chairman.

Judges given the difficult task of choosing the queen, whose week-long reign includes appearances at the parade, COP football game and a television show, are: Lud Spolyar, student body president; Nick Thomas, local charm school director; Emerson "Doc" Arends, SJS alumni association president; captain for the SC-SJS game, and a member yet to be named, Case said.

Speakers from Santa Clara include: Reid Carney, student body president; Dick Wiborn and Lou Lang, co-captains; and a member of the coaching staff, Vranizan said.

Dave Feosfrion, head cheer leader, Marv Pixoto and Tom McDermitt will attempt to get Spartans in the football mood for Saturday's game with the Mission town boys.

A wide variety of music will be furnished by the "Keiki Kanes," Hawaiian group, The Back Room Boys, a dixie jazz band, and "Two Nuts and a Bolt," a "cut-up" trio, according to Vranizan, who will be master of ceremonies.

Members of the jazz band are: Jake Hammond, leader, piano; Joe Agnello, guitar; Jake Reynolds, drums; Fred Trent, trombone; Jack Mauvais, bass; Bob Au, clarinet, and Bill Miers, trumpet.

Newmans Sponsor After-Rally Dance

An after-rally dance with a "Competitive Sports" theme will be sponsored tomorrow evening by the Newman club, according to Barbara Grant, chairman.

The music for the dance, which will be held at Newman hall, will be recorded. Dress will be informal.

Admission will be 25 cents per couple and 15 cents for each stag.

Encouraging Apology

Yesterday's mail call yielded a letter that should prove of interest to Spartan Daily readers.

We are publishing the letter in full, for we feel the genuineness of Marvin Peixoto's apology is beyond question.

It is encouraging to note that the rabid partisan spirit generally associated with the usual "cross town rivalry" has not obscured Santa Clara university's sense of fair play. We congratulate Marvin Peixoto for having the courage to fly in the face of convention and apologize to a rival school.

Some one has said: "Apologies are a sign of weakness." We feel this to be erroneous. In this case, it is obviously an example of strength—an example we hope to be able to match if the opportunity presents itself.

Dear Editor:

My attention has been called to the letter printed in the "Thrust and Parry" column of the Spartan Daily last Wednesday and the editorial comment regarding it. I am the Santa Clara cheer leader mentioned, and I believe my apologies to the San Jose State student body are in order.

My statement was merely intended as an attempt, however poor, to create additional enthusiasm in an intensely spirited game and was not, I assure you, intended as an insult. On looking back, I can see that it was in very poor taste and definitely void of any humor at all.

My comment in no way reflects the sentiments of the University of Santa Clara, its student body or myself. I hope the Spartan Daily and the San Jose State student body will accept my regrets if, by my poorly thought out outburst, I have damaged the fine spirit of friendly crosstown rivalry which exists between our two schools.

I feel confident that our cheering section and the conduct of our student body at the coming game will prove to be of much higher quality than my unfortunate attempt at "humor."

Sincerely,

MARVIN PEIXOTO,
Assistant cheer leader, University of Santa Clara.

Poems, humorous sketches and short stories will be featured.

Barbara Hershey will read "The House With Nobody In It," by Joyce Kilmer; Charles Knowles will present a group of poems by Robert Frost, and James Bernardi will deliver "A Tree, A Rock, A Cloud," by Carson McCullers.

"Miss Brill," by Katherine Mansfield, will be read by Kathryn Sproul; Joel Adams will present "Simon Legree," by Vachel Lindsay; and Joan Eley will read Eleanor Kinsella McDonnell's "Off the Set."

Norma Rash will tell "Christmas Ghost," by Stephen Leacock, and Agnes Bolter will deliver "The Body Beautiful," by Cornelia Otis Skinner.

Students who will participate in the oral reading hour at the Western Speech Association convention on Nov. 23 will be selected this week, Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, chairman of the Oral Reading division, announced yesterday. The program will be held at the Sainte Claire hotel at 4 p.m., she said.

The Speech and Drama department is sponsoring the convention, slated for Nov. 22 through 24.

Home Ec Student Shows How Math Is Used at Home

"Mathematics we use in home-making" is the title of the home economics display this week. The exhibit was set up by Grace Childs, home economics student.

Cabinets holding the display are placed outside the office in the Home Economics building.

The use of mathematics in decorating, cooking, sewing and planning the budget is reviewed by the exhibit.

Faculty Discusses SJS Police School

What was described as a dinner seminar by Willard E. Schmidt, head of the Police school, was held at his home for members of the Police school faculty Friday night.

Mr. Schmidt and his guests discussed future plans for the Police school's curriculum and methods of obtaining better coordination of their mutual efforts.

Other topics of discussion were the general standardized methods of individual student evaluation.

"For example," Mr. Schmidt explained, "We feel it is significant if a student is wrapped up in himself, tardy or continuously absent. These are indications of the type of police officer he might be."

In the first meeting last Thursday, Coach Charley Walker's men captured a convincing 22 to 6 victory at San Mateo. The rematch may be closer, according to Walker, who claims the peninsula school will be bolstered by three first string swimmers who missed the first game.

Walker probably will go along with the same starting line-up that tallied the highest water polo figure of the season with: Don Hifner, goalie; Nort Thornton, Bob Gorman, and George Knight, backs; Jay Flood, Barry Schuttler and Ward Setlow, forwards. Also seeing probable action will be Bill Short, Gene Broderick, Sam Yates, Don Cudney and Don Sweeney.

The varsity water team will meet Santa Clara in a re-match Friday night in Spartan pool.

Turkey Trot Set For Next Monday

By BILL WELDY

If you are one of those fellows who gets up late every morning and then has to run to class, you are probably in shape for competition in the first all-campus sports of the year—namely the Turkey Trot which will be held Monday afternoon, according to Mel Binkley, chairman of the event.

The Turkey Trot is an annual affair sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity and is open to both cross country team members and novice harriers. The distance to be run is three miles over a course stretching from San Carlos street to Spartan stadium and back.

In the past, competition has been limited to individual running, but this year relay competition will be held to enable campus organizations to get into the fray. Three perpetual trophies will be presented to the relay teams finishing first, second and third, respectively. Each relay team will consist of six men with each man running 880 yards.

As in the past the three top individual runners will receive fowl prizes: a turkey for the winner, a goose for the runner-up and a duck for the number three man. There will be baby chicks for consolation.

Stanley Benz, dean of men, will serve as official starter. Dean Benz will take his position at the starting line which will be located on San Carlos street near the Men's gym. The course will run east on San Carlos to Seventh street, south on Seventh street to Spartan stadium, and then back-track to the starting point which also will serve as the finish line.

Gale-Phelps Meet For Finals Berth

All players in the Consolation bracket are asked to check the Men's gym bulletin board for today's starting times.

Frosh Class Will Hear About SJS Fine Arts, Publications

A meeting of the freshman orientation class will be held tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Stanley C. Benz, dean of men.

Theme for the program is "Fine Arts Activities and Publications," he added.

"The Spartan Daily and La Torre" will be discussed by Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, while "Cultural Opportunities" will be the subject of Dr. Hugh W. Gillis, chairman of the division of Fine Arts.

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art department head; Dr. Lyle W. Downey, Music department head; Dr. James H. Clancy, professor of dramatics; and Wilbur F. Luck, director of forensics and debate, also will speak before the freshman group.

Executive Advisers Will Assist SJS Journalism Dept.

A continuing advisory board of working newspaper and advertising executives to assist the college department of journalism in making its training precisely fit the needs of the field has been established, Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, announced yesterday.

Dr. Bentel said, "These men will constitute the original board, but one or two additions may be made in advertising."

The first meeting between the advisory board and the journalism faculty is scheduled for sometime this month on campus, he said. The Spartan Daily will be discussed at the initial session, he disclosed.

He added that the advisory board is an effort to keep the program alive, progressing and abreast of the times.

"The newspaper and advertising industries are living, changing fields and for the instruction in this department to be most effective, we must keep up with these changes," Dr. Bentel stated.

Dr. Bentel disclosed that the meetings with the advisory board will be held quarterly and at these sessions the members of both groups will consider unit by unit program and instruction in journalism.

Naval Recruiters Navy to Give Aviation Cadet Information

Naval officers who will interview and accept applications of male students interested in participating in the Navy's aviation cadet program, will be here today, according to the public information office at the Naval Air Station, Oakland.

College officials have made arrangements for the representatives to be on campus to answer questions.

In order to qualify, students must be unmarried, have 60 or more semester hours, have not received draft induction orders, and must pass physical and written aptitude examinations.

The flight training period is 18 months in length, after which the cadet is commissioned as an ensign in the Naval Reserve, or as a second lieutenant in the Marine Reserve. Commissioned pilots receive $350 a month if single; if they have dependents they receive a monthly salary of $430, according to Navy officials.

Students interested in obtaining further information can do so by calling on the representatives in R106 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. today.

Dr. Erwin Graue, professor of economics at the University of Idaho, who was a member of the San Jose State college summer session faculty in 1950 and 1951, now is spending a year in Ankara, Turkey, on a Fulbright scholarship, according to a letter received by Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, dean of educational services and summer session.

Dr. Graue wrote Dr. Mosher that the "great attribute of Turkish character is patience." He added that Ankara is a city with 5000 years of history, but modern in many ways.

The economics professor will return to the United States in time to teach here next summer.
